ABSTRACT

This document is the annual Accountability Report Card that was created by the Dalton State College Office of Institutional Research and Planning for the academic year 2002-2003. The document addresses improvements made according to indicators in a variety of areas that have also been used in previous years. The results for the 2001-2002 are compared to the improvement targets that had been set for 2002-2003 in the previous year. The document also provides the improvement targets and actual results for the 2000-2001 academic years. The indicators that are tracked in the study are the following: (1) incoming/new freshmen cohort achievement; (2) learning support; (3) enrollment; (4) efficiency; (5) degree progress and student achievement; (6) general education; (7) licensure examination program; (8) retention rate; (9) graduation rate; (10) graduate employment; (11) student satisfaction; (12) employer satisfaction; (13) fiscal; (14) faculty profile; (15) faculty satisfaction; (16) staff satisfaction; and (17) academic support and administrative efficiency/ satisfaction (this category is divided up into 27 different areas and each are addressed individually). The actual results for the 2002-2003 academic years is not yet available, but by looking at this document one gain a good sense of what is expected of the Dalton State College in 2002-2003. (MZ)
